DEMOCRATS QUIT UNTIL MONDAY MORNING

FIRST BALLOT IS BARREN OF RESULT; OHIO BREAKS ON THE 74TH ROLL CALL

Madison Square Garden, New York, July 5.—(INS).—The Democratic National Convention resorted to arbitration late today after taking 77 ballots in a futile effort to nominate a presidential candidate.

King of Utah moved an adjournment until 11 o'clock Monday morning. There was vociferous objection, but Walsh finally ruled the adjournment motion had passed.

The conclusion of a hectic day which had witnessed efforts to move the convention to Kansas City ad seen three efforts to narrow the field of candidates down by elimination failed to make a dent on the floor. A number of the leaders got together in the middle of the afternoon and reported out a resolution which provided, in effect that Coriell Hull, Chairman of the National Committee and Thomas J. Walsh, permanent Chairman of the Convention, be appointed a committee of two to consult the representatives of all candidates and try to "reach an understanding which will hasten the conclusion of this convention."

The resolution follows:
"I move that when this convention adjourns today the Chairman of the Democratic National Committee and of the Convention be requested to call a conference of their representatives of the candidates whose names are to be balloted for and who have been formally placed for the purpose of reaching an understanding so as to hasten the conclusion of this Convention."

It was adopted with only a few votes in opposition.

Immediately after this was adopted the convention adjourned until 11:00 Monday morning, the consultations and conferences of Hull and Walsh with the candidates' managers to take place in the meanwhile.

The plan agreed upon—for Walsh and Hull to arbitrate the matter—has the endorsement of all the various candidates, it was said by those in the conferences.

There was considerable kicking about at first but the more non-partisan among the party leaders like Hull and Walsh absolutely insisted that something be done. They pointed out that the convention, over their head at the moment, was then engaged in taking the 77th ballot and that 77 more would probably prove futile under existing conditions.

They insisted that from the standpoint of harmony, mutual advantage and everything else the present situation was intolerable and becoming.

DELEGATES REFUSE TO DROP FAVORITE SONS BY ELIMINATING ONE ON EACH VOTE

Madison Square Garden, N. Y., July 5.—Twice within the first two hours of its session today the Democratic National Convention voted down proposals that would have provided for progressive elimination of favorite sons candidates for the President.

Both resolutions were designed to break the deadlock that has continued for six days through 73 ballots and both were made by the McAdoo forces and opposed by the anti-McAdoo forces.

The first of these proposals by Ed. H. Hemans, a delegate from Oklahoma was howled down by a viva voce vote without a roll call. It was too drastic. It would have provided for the elimination of all but two candidates by automatically dropping off the lowest man on each ballot, until only the pair were left—McAdoo and Smith.

The second proposal was by ex-senator Gilbert Hitchcock of Nebraska and was considerably less rigorous. It would have eliminated all but five, the eliminations to have lasted only for one day.

Hitchcock's resolution follows:
"Resolved: It is the sense of this convention that ending with the 76th ballot the candidate receiving the lowest vote should signify to his supporters his withdrawal as a candidate, until only 5 candidates remain before the convention, such withdrawal to remain effective for this day only."

On this resolution there was a roll call and was overwhelmingly defeated by a vote of 496 ayes to 559 nays. It would require a two-thirds vote to pass because a suspension of the rules was involved.

HON. A. A. ADEE DIES

Washington, July 5 (INS).—Second Assistant Secretary of State, A. A. Ade, died here today. He was 82 years old.

Moving Of Convention To Kansas City Is Voted Down Almost Unanimous

Madison Square Garden, New York, July 5.—A sensational move to take the Democratic National Convention away from New York and reconvene it again in Kansas City on July 21st, was overwhelmingly defeated on the floor of Madison Square Garden this afternoon in a roll call vote.

The movement was sponsored by A. H. Ferguson, a delegate from Durant, Okla. He presented a resolution declaring that inasmuch as it was evident this convention was getting nowhere, it should be adjourned after the 7th ballot to assemble again in Kansas City three weeks hence.

Despite vigorous objections raised by the Smith and allied forces in the convention, Chairman Walsh ordered that the Oklahoman's resolution was perfectly in order and should be voted on.

In the end, after a series of hurried consultations, the Smith and McAdoo forces joined in sending the move down to crashing defeat.

MILL EXPLOSION KILLS FOUR NEAR BRADFORD, PA.

Bradford, Pa., July 5, (INS).—Four men are dead and two are in a critical condition today at a local hospital as the result of injuries received when the plant of the Luminol Corporation, of Pittsburgh, at Lewis Run, was destroyed by a gas explosion late Thursday afternoon.

The dead: Joel Light, 25, Allentown, Pa., expert chemist; Joe Minchie, 25, Lewis Run; Victor Deprater, 24, East Wear; Paul Frank, 25, mining engineer, chemist.

The injured: George Wisegarber, 26 of Waynesburg, manager of the plant and son of the president of the Luminol Corporation; John Minchie, 17, Lewis Run, brother of one of the dead men.

The bodies were blown 200 feet from the plant and were almost unrecognizable. The plant was only opened last week and is a complete wreck.

LAST NIGHT'S DOPE

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

New York, July 5.—Deadlocked for 70 ballots, and seemingly deadlocked for that many more unless Wm. G. McAdoo and Gov. Al Smith cannot be prevailed upon to eliminate themselves, thus allowing a compromise on a third man, the tired, bewildered delegates to the Democratic National convention went back to Madison Square Garden today and took up the weary grind of answering roll calls.

Overnight developments offered but little promise of the convention making any more headway in its little of the ballots than it has made in the five previous days. Suggestions that the only solution of this unprecedented situation lies in the withdrawal of both leading candidates began to be heard with increasing frequency as the sixth day got under way.

Ardmore Policemen Shot, One Seriously Hurt. In Approach To Klan Meet

Ardmore, Pa., July 5. (INS).—Lower Merion township police authorities were prepared to "do battle to the death" with alleged members of the Ku Klux Klan in this vicinity, following the shooting of two officers who were on their way to investigate the burning of a fire cross on the Haverford College grounds.

Captain James I. Donaghy, Police Chief, issued orders to his men that they were to "shoot to kill" any persons appearing in the regalia of the Klan.

A fire alarm was sent in by residents who first saw the fiery cross burning, according to Donaghy's report, and Francis Roy and Albert Miller, policemen, responded. They were walking across a meadow toward the blaze when they saw two figures slinking away in the darkness. They ordered them to halt and instead, they were shot. Roy was seriously injured.

A reward of $1,000 has been offered for identification of the men.

FINE HEALTH REPORT

Secretary Gaulin of the Board of Health in his weekly report states that but two cases of communicable disease were reported to the Board of Health during the past week. One was chicken pox and the other scarlet fever.

There are but five cases of contagion in the town under quarantine. They are located as follows—
First Ward—None.
Second Ward—Measles.
3rd Ward—Scarlet fever, 1; Measles, 2; Chicken Pox, 1.
4th Ward—None.

Klan Plank Bops Up To Disturb La Follette's Cleveland Convention

Cleveland, July 5 (INS).—The resolutions committee of the conference for Progressive political action, engaged in drafting a platform upon which Senator Robert M. La Follette will make his Independent presidential race unexpectedly found itself confronted today with one of the most troublesome of all political questions—the Ku Klux Klan.

Just as the committee members were congratulating themselves that they had avoided the embarrassment of dealing with this problem, a small group of men appeared with a proposed plank denouncing the Klan by name. Failure to incorporate it in the platform, they would, would result in the taking of the fight directly to the floor of the convention as the Democrats did in New York.

COOLIDGE'S SON IS VERY ILL OF BLOOD POISONING TODAY

Washington, July 5, (INS).—The condition of Calvin Coolidge, Jr., son of the President, who is seriously ill at the White House with blood poisoning was unchanged at 2:50 o'clock this afternoon.

Physicians have been in attendance at his bedside for 24 hours, and both the President and Mrs. Coolidge were in and out of the sick room during the night.

UNION SERVICES FROM JULY 13 TO AUGUST 24.

Both because of the spirit of fellowship among the ministers of Clearfield and to strengthen the fraternal and Christian relations among these churches, the pastors have arranged for union meetings on Sunday nights from July 13 to August 24. The places of meeting are Trinity church, July 20, alternating through the period. No announcement of the preacher will be made. The services, however, will be featured. Music will be exceptional in some respects right along. It may not be the selections always; probably the folks that lead. The respective Churches have entered into this plan with fine unanimity and enthusiasm. It promises much for the entire community; it offers much in opportunity and service to the people. The Baptist, Lutheran, Trinity Methodist, Presbyterian and Protestant Episcopal Churches are joining in this union meeting plan. And their respective members will support from duty, privilege and interest in the major objectives of these meetings.

Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Imier motored to Bedford, where they spent the Fourth with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schied and son, of Lock Haven, spent the Fourth with Mr. and Mrs. Burchfield on old Mill Road.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Homer and family, of Altoona, visited Mr. and Mrs. Burchfield of old Mill Road, over the week-end.

La Follette Will Run; Trust Me, He Says, Old Parties Unfaithful

Cleveland July 4.—Tossing his hat into the ring as an independent candidate for President Senator Robert M. La Follette, of Wisconsin, has created a tangled political situation which may bear strange fruit, possibly throwing the election of a Chief Executive into the House of Representatives for the first time in a hundred years.

The formal announcements of La Follette's candidacy was read here today to the Conference for Progressive Political Action—which is paving the way for a vigorous campaign—in the mammoth hall where Calvin Coolidge was nominated three weeks ago, and as the Democratic Convention in New York continued deadlocked in its choice of a candidate.

To Fill In All States
"I shall submit my name as an independent Progressive candidate for President, together with the names of 47 qualified candidates for electors, for filing on the ballots in every state in the union," the announcement read. "My appeal will be addressed to every class of the people and to every section of the country."

La Follette's answer came in response to a petition from the convention. He will be nominated formally tomorrow as an Independent, not as the leader of a third party. He explains his attitude on this point in his lengthy letter which scores the two old parties and carries an outline of his policies.

When the message had been read Herman Willis offered a resolution to nominate him at once by acclamation. This move was opposed by Morris Hillquit, New York Socialist, as premature. Hillquit said the National Committee planned to make nominations tomorrow. This view was sustained.

Word from La Follette, read by his son, "Young Bob", came as a climax to the all-day opening session of the progressive convention, which was priming itself for this announcement, and greeted every mention of the Wisconsin Senator's name with roars of applause from all parts of the great auditorium. Young La Follette was frequently interrupted by enthusiastic cheers, sweeping the crowd.

Declaring that "the time has come for concerted action," La Follette said, "Even if both Republicans and Democratic conventions have adopted thoroughgoing progressive platforms the people have learned that neither party could be trusted to keep its promises."

FIND BOY WHO HAS BEEN LOST 4 DAYS ON FAYETTE HILLS

Connellsville, Pa., July 5.—(INS).—After wandering about the mountain side since Tuesday morning, Alfred Beverage, four years old, is safe at the home of his parents near Bear Lock today. The boy was found by a searching party of more than 300 men.

LEGION CELEBRATION SET A NEW HIGH MARK FOR ENTERTAINMENT; PARADE IS MOST POPULAR FEATURE; SPORTS FINE

Railroaders Walk Off With First Prize and Verdict Is Unanimous; It Was a Great Show.

WEATHERM'N KIND

Another Fourth of July is over and marked down upon the pages of the glorious history of this glorious country of ours, and once more has John Shade Post of the American Legion not only demonstrated its ability to foster a really worth while exhibition but again covers itself with glory for the general excellence of the entertainment furnished at their big two day celebration.

The two day program of baseball, racing, and general park entertainment, which reached its climax yesterday afternoon when 20,000 people swarmed into the park, was high-class in every feature and particular and amply repaid all pleasure seekers for their efforts in coming to Clearfield. The high standard of local American Legion entertainments in the past was more than maintained and it is needless to add that every visitor to the town went home more than well pleased with the day spent in Clearfield.

Crowds Not so Large on Third
The crowd on Thursday was not so large as expected, the great majority of people of this region feeling one day was about all they could stand for pleasure and the effectiveness of their patriotism. However a fine program was given at the park, consisting of three fine races, a baseball game between the Philadelphia and Clearfield C. & C. League teams, which was won by Clearfield 3 to 1. The matchless LaPel and the daring and intrepid Marie Collier added their full measure to the entertainment, while Geo. Bobyn's big midway also provided entertainment for the visitors.

Real Big Day on 4th
The Fourth was one real big day and that, too, despite the rain which trickled gently down throughout the entire morning and no doubt kept hundreds of people at home. Hostilities opened with the big industrial parade, and it sure was one big parade.

Clearfield business concerns, business men and citizens generally, have every reason to be proud of that parade. We doubt if there are many other towns in this region where its like could be presented. No community stands more squarely or more solidly behind its American Legion Post than does old Clearfield and this fact was exemplified, once more in the spirit in which our people entered their industrial parade. The parade itself beggars description and was a revelation to the stranger within our gates. Hundreds of people drove into Clearfield from all over Central Pennsylvania just to see that parade and none were disappointed. It certainly was worth seeing. The standard of the floats was so high that each and every one deserve favorable comment and as that would require two newspapers the size of ours, we will limit our comment to the report of the Parade Judges, which meets with our hearty approval in every particular and detail. That report follows:

Report American Legion Parade Committee

Gentlemen:—
Your float judges beg to report as follows:
For the club and fraternal organization class we are unanimous in awarding the cup to the Brotherhood Railway Trainmen, Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, who had not only an excellent float but men in line. Honorable mention in this class was award in the order named as follows: Clearfield Commercial Club, Playgrounds, especially the West Side playground; the B. F. O. The American Legion Auxiliary.

HAD VERY CLOSE CALL

The only near-accident reported to us during yesterday's big time occurred on Market street in front of Cook's store when a nurse girl carrying one of Dr. and Mrs. Geo. J. Breth's twin babies, was struck and knocked down by an automobile driven by Frank Stewart. The car was very nearly stopped when it struck the girl and while both nurse and child fell to the street, fortunately both escaped injury.

SWAT THE FLY! SWAT THE FLY! SWAT THE FLY!

On Monday morning the local Board of Health will start a fly elimination campaign under the direction of Health Officer Gaulin. It will be a campaign not only for the elimination of the fly we have with us but an effort to stop the generations yet unborn.

Starting bright and early Monday morning the Boy Scouts will distribute fly swatters and attached thereto, will be a folder issued by the State Department of Health. This folder is in cartoon style bearing an impressive lesson on the reasons why the fly should be done away with.

It is the intention of Health Officer Gaulin to carry this campaign through to a successful conclusion and he wishes every householder in this city to co-operate.

The place to start eliminating the fly is to destroy the breeding places and the rubbish and waste matter which gives them food. You, Mr. Home Owner, can do this by cleaning up your premises and doing away with the breeding places.

The stores in the city where you would naturally look for something to aid you in the fight for the elimination of the fly, are co-operating with the Board of Health and offering many things which will be of material aid in the campaign.

So SWAT THE FLY, destroy his breeding places, make Clearfield a flyless town.

NEW STAR SHINES IN COLOR CONTEST; BOYD AGAIN WINS

To Arnold Leipold goes the first prize in the Coloring Contest for this week. And the judges were unanimous in their opinion that Arnold's page was and is the best page which has ever been submitted to them among the hundreds of pages they have gone over. There is a finish to this page which would do great credit to an artist many years Arnold's senior.

Miriam Boyd secured second prize in close competition with a new contestee, Mary Adam. Of course, Mary was given third prize, also being eliminated from second place. Mary Louise Ginery was awarded fourth prize.

Tickets to the Liberty Theatre were awarded to Billy Rossmore, Helen Virginia Gearhart, Alvera, Daniel Herrman, Robert, Dixie Jane Davis, Ethel, Elms Stage and Miriam Boyd, this city.

FIRST BALLOT IS BARREN OF RESULT

Madison Square Garden, New York, July 5.—Short in temper and funds and with another expensive week-end in New York staring them in the face unless an agreement is reached today, delegates to the Democratic National Convention trod their well worn path to the Garden again this morning and resumed their endurance contest over the selection of a presidential nominee.

If the temper of the delegates has been frayed before, it was positively jagged today—the sixth of this history-making deadlock over a matter that usually is decided in less than half that time.

"We want to go home," was the universal wail.

The hungry doughboys in the A. E. F. never waited it with more fervor. But the strong prejudices and unrelenting bitterness that have combined to tie up this gathering day after day seemingly were just as pronounced a fever. And when the first heavy-eyed delegates straggled into the Garden at 10:30 o'clock the outlook appeared gloomy for a decision today. Everything looked gloomy, the weather included. The skies were overcast and sullen and threatening to spit rain any minute.

The local played sad and melancholy music while the delegates drifted in and wearily found their seats.

Notwithstanding less than half of them were in their seats at 10:45, Chairman Walsh called the convention to order.

The 71st ballot brought comparatively little change in the standing of the candidates.

Mr. Adams again ran his total above the 500 mark as he did last night but failed to increase the figures. Smith stayed where he was and there was no difference in the favorite son showing.

The apathy of the delegates was again the fact that no applause greeted the hectic announcements of "so many for Smith" and "so many for McAdoo". The votes were old songs. They had been sung before—seventy times. The delegates read newspapers and otherwise amused themselves.

While the 71st ballot was in progress, Tom Taggart, George Brennan, Wm. Jennings Bryan and other leaders of lesser note were holding a quiet meeting in a little room under the stage. They have talked several times during the last 24 hours—always fruitlessly.

The first ballot taken, the 71st, was as follows:

McAdoo 528½.
Smith 334½.
Davis 67.
Underwood 37½.
Glass 25.
Baker 56.
Ritchie 16½.
Robinson 21.
Walsh of Montana 1.
Owen 2.
Gov. Bryan 2.
Saulsbury 6.

The 72nd ballot was similarly unproductive of any appreciable change. The lines held firm and the totals for each candidate varied but little.

Ohio Breaks.
The 74th ballot was marked by the breaking up of Ohio's block of 48 votes which had gone solidly for Cox or Newton D. Baker since the balloting started.

Ohio split her vote among nine candidates and gave McAdoo not one vote. Gov. Smith got 20½ of the 48.

This ballot also marked the end of agreement between Michigan leaders and the McAdoo forces under which Michigan had given Smith a majority again.

The Ohio and Michigan switches brought Gov. Smith up to the highest total he has yet attained, 364, barely short of third of the convention.

Smith Gains Veto Power.
While the 76th ballot, which showed comparatively little change, was in progress, there was a meeting of Smith leaders, McAdoo leaders and the managers of favorite sons under the speaker's platform, at which various subjects were discussed for breaking the deadlock.

One of the principal questions discussed was that of taking an adjournment shortly until next Monday morning to give everybody time to cool off and get together.

Governor Smith on the 76th ballot climbed above the "veto mark" of 367 votes and for the first time during the convention, he had been in Tyne, who will be 89 on Monday July 7th.

After the 78th ballot Tom Taggart of Indiana was recognized and moved that Cordell Hull, Chairman of the National Committee and Senator Thomas J. Walsh, permanent Chairman, be appointed a committee of two to confer with the representatives of all the candidates to see if an agreement cannot be reached that will hasten the conclusion of this convention. The Taggart resolution passed overwhelmingly.

ENTERTAINED FAMILY PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Fink entertained a large party of relatives and friends over the Fourth. Those present were:

Dr. and Mrs. Cecil Armsey daughter Dorothy and son Thomas, of (Cleveland, O.; Mrs. S. J. Southey, mother of Dr. Armsey, Painesville, O.; Mrs. Blanche Foster daughters, Betty Jane and Wava Hene, of Newark, O.; Mrs. Priscilla McNeil, son Reuben, daughter Wava and Merrill Haines, Juniata, Pa.; Mrs. F. H. Moore, Maple Run, Pa.; Mrs. Lizzie A. Wise, Curwensville, Pa.; Mark A. Caldwell, New Millport; James Caldwell an old Clearfield Countian, but for some years past residing with his daughter in Tyne, who will be 89 on Monday July 7th.

Mrs. Wise, Mrs. McNeil and Mrs. Moore are sisters of Mrs. Fink and Mark A. Caldwell a brother.

James Caldwell is an uncle of the above named, a great uncle of Mrs. Armsey, Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Haines and Reuben McNeil and a great, great uncle of Dorothy and Thomas Armsey and Betty Jane and Wava Hene Foster.

They all enjoyed the very fine parade and the men folks the good ball game, races and other entertainments at the Park in the afternoon.

Two Ways To Build a Car

The Hupmobile Quality-Proof exhibit shows you two ways of building a motor car.

You don't have to be an expert on fine motor car practice to understand Hupmobile Quality-Proof.

Every part is labeled. Its material is given in plain English.

The lesser practice is also told. You can see it all for yourself. Here is the kind of proof you are justified in demanding from any car.

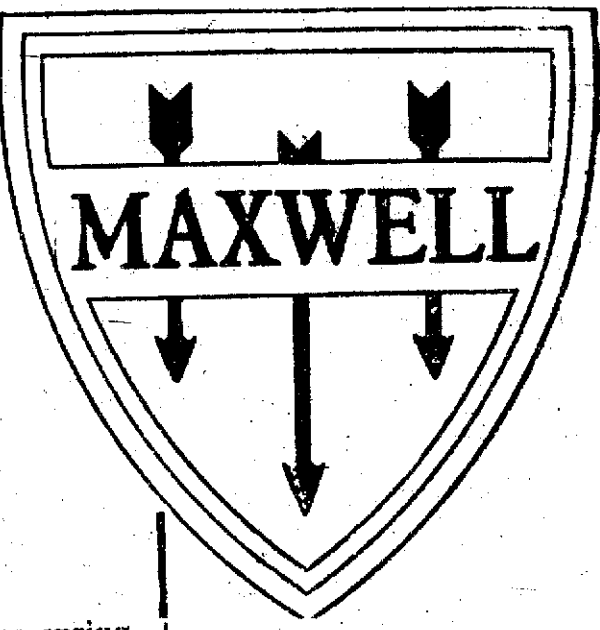

Hupmobile Quality-Proof shows you not only fine material. It shows you fine engineering design and fine manufacturing—as fine as can be done by trained mechanics and modern precision machinery.

Hupmobile owners could tell you how much these things mean in satisfaction—in saving them money and time—in making their Hupmobile pay as no other car ever before paid them.

Come in soon—and learn how a motor car must be built to give you the satisfaction every motorist desires.

PENN MOTOR SALES COMPANY

Walter P. Chrysler says Maxwell Now Sets a New Pace.

The good Maxwell is displaying the possibilities of the four-cylinder car, in the very things people want in motor cars, in a way they have never been demonstrated before.

With the active participation of the Chrysler Six engineering staff, the process of betterment begun three years ago was tremendously accelerated.

Knowing that the latest Maxwell developments approach the revolutionary in both practice and results, I have every justification in the world for calling Maxwell a most wonderful four-cylinder car.

The difference in the way the Maxwell rides and drives and steers will impress you instantly.

You will be expecting the vibration you've always felt behind a four-cylinder engine.

But you will be delightfully disappointed—and surprised. For we have taken that vibration away from Maxwell. It's gone.

The device which accomplishes this result in Maxwell—for the first time, we believe, in a four-cylinder car—is nothing more than a floating platform spring under the front end of the motor—but it is exclusive to Maxwell.

You can safely count on 22 miles to the gallon or better, and 18,000 miles per set of tires. Those figures are not ours, but the average of Maxwell owner reports.

Main bearings rarely if ever replaced; a longer-lived, smoother-running car because vibration is practically eliminated.

That's the way we are building the good Maxwell today—with a far greater proportion of costly alloy steels than is usual at its price.

Those are the results which I want to drive home to every man and woman who is in the market for a car.

You probably have your own ideas about a motor car and what you want it to do.

The most I ask is that you compare Maxwell riding and driving and performance with those ideas of yours, and then decide for yourself whether any other four you know of can match up to Maxwell.

Lesson for July 6 THE BIRTH OF JESUS

LESSON TEXT—Luke 2:7-20.
GOLDEN TEXT—"For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord."
Luk. 2:11.
PRIMARY TOPIC—The Baby Jesus.
JUNIOR TOPIC—What the Shepherds Saw and Heard.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Greatest Event in the World's History.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Greatest Hope Centered in the Birth of Christ.

I. Jesus' Birth Foretold (Micah 5:2).
This prediction was made some 700 years before. God moved the emperor to enforce the decree of taxation just in time to cause Mary to be at Bethlehem.

II. Jesus' Birth Announced to Mary and Joseph (Luke 1:26-38).
The mighty archangel Gabriel was sent by God to the little town of Nazareth to Mary, a Jewish maiden, who was betrothed to a carpenter of that village by the name of Joseph, solemnly announcing that she should give birth to the Messiah and that this son should not be Joseph's son but should be the child of the Holy Ghost (Matt. 1:18-21). Later the angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph, also, making the same announcement to him, and added that the child should be called Jesus, which means that Jehovah will save His people from their sins (Matt. 1:21).

III. The Prediction Fulfilled (v. 7).
This took place at a most propitious time. The Jews were under the power of the Romans. Not only did the birth of Christ occur when all systems of religion and morality were tottering upon their foundations but at a time most suitable for the introduction of the Gospel. The whole world being under one rule made it possible for Christ's ministers to go from city to city and country to country unimpeded. The Abrahamic rules in the whole universe and is never behind in His administration.

The surroundings of Christ at His birth were of a most sort. The Eternal God could not be born in a manger, becoming the poorest of the poor that none might be hindered in coming unto Him.

IV. Christ's Birth Announced (vv. 8-14).
1. By Whom? The first Gospel sermon was preached by an angel of the Lord. Thus we see that the exalted ministers of God were interested in man and had part in the announcement of God's plan of salvation.

2. To Whom? His birth was announced to the shepherds who were looking watch over their flocks by night. The fact that the glorious Gospel message was first sounded forth to them shows that poverty is no barrier to their reception, and does not reveal Himself primarily to the princes and great men of the earth, but oftentimes concerns from such and discloses to the poor. (James 2:5).

3. The Nature of the Message. It was good tidings of great joy. It was good tidings because the darkness of heathenism, which had so long covered the earth, was beginning to vanish. The casting out of Satan, the prince of this world, was about to take place. Liberty was soon to be proclaimed to those who were in bondage. The way of salvation was to be open to all. No longer was the knowledge of God to be confined to the Jews, but offered to the whole world. Glorious news this. So glorious that a multitude of the heavenly host accompanied this announcement with their song of praise. Thus we see that the first Gospel sermon was in the open air. The minister was the angel of God, the choir were the angels, the audience made up of humble shepherds.

V. The Shepherds Investigating (vv. 15, 16).
They did not stop to argue or raise questions, though these things were no doubt passing strange to them. They went immediately to Bethlehem, where they made an investigation and found everything just as represented. They had the privilege of first gazing upon the world's Savior, the very Lord of glory. They returned with gratitude in their hearts, praising God for all those wonderful things which He had revealed unto them.

VI. The Shepherds Witnessing (vv. 17-20).
They found things as announced. When they beheld the Lord of glory they could not remain silent. Therefore, they went back praising God. Those who really hear the Gospel message cannot be silent. If they really hear they must tell it out to others.

Our Needs

The needs for this present are more important to most people than the need and preparation for eternity.—The Living Word.

No Worth With God

The grace of God is not the backsliding kind.—The Living Word.

Don't Retire

It is nonsense to retire from business unless one has something to live that he likes better.

CHURCHES

TRINITY METHODIST CHURCH

South Second Street.
Bible School starts out with special music, 9:30 sharp, with O. T. Tobias, Supt. The Missionary program will be in charge of H. B. Powell, Jr., and the offering is special. To meet last year's record we must have 400 present and more than $75. The organized classes for men and women furnish a goodly place for strangers and visitors to enjoy fellowship and study of the Scriptures.

Worship, 10:45 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Special exposition of selected Scriptures both morning and evening.

Trinity Church challenges men and strangers. To them it extends a cordial welcome. Its sittings are free; good music; it urges the week-end visitor and the unchurched to turn in tomorrow at Trinity. Strangers often attend Trinity's mid-week congregational meeting, Wednesday evening.

WEST SIDE M. E. CHURCH

N. Y. World Calls On McAdoo-Smith To Quit

McAdoo will also make the sacrifice. There is reason to believe that had the New York Governor been allowed to make the speech before the convention that his friends sought for him last night he would have put such a proposition before the delegates.

But while confident that Governor Smith would be amenable to the idea of voluntary elimination, his friends asserted with vehemence today that under no circumstances would it ever come to pass unless Mr. McAdoo also is eliminated. The feeling engendered here in two bitter weeks of conflict is too great for that.

The New York World, one of the leading Democratic organs of the country, and an ardent supporter of the New York Governor, published a black faced editorial this morning under the heading of "Shall the Democratic Party Die?" It called upon the party and "all that is sanest and wisest within it to break this deadlock by the simultaneous withdrawal of both leading candidates.

"Very logical," was Governor Smith's laconic reply to the proposition, "very presumptuous," was the tart rejoinder of Mr. McAdoo.

Around the McAdoo camp there was little indication today of surrender. His managers fairly snorted at the idea. They contended that Mr. McAdoo had cornered more delegates than any other candidate, that he has come within twenty votes of a majority of the convention, and that if there is to be any withdrawing it must give up Governor Smith or the favorite sons whom Mr. McAdoo accuses of blocking the convention wheels.

The apparently futile balloting, under recent circumstances was demonstrated early this morning on the last two ballots taken in the Garden, the 69th and 70th. The McAdoo managers began a drive on the 69th. Aided by an agreement effected temporarily with Michigan leaders by which 23 of the Michigan votes were diverted into the McAdoo column for not to exceed five ballots, the McAdoo managers brought up all their reserves and threw them into the snarling battle that represents the Garden arena. The result was but 530 votes—twenty short of a majority and 202 short of the necessary two thirds.

Try as they could the McAdoo lieutenants could not hold the line. The next ballot showed a recession to 528.5 and they offered but little objection when the motion to adjourn came a moment later from Tom Taggart of Indiana.

Should the proposals for the mutual elimination of McAdoo and Smith come to nothing, the convention seemed likely to face several interesting alternatives before many hours have slipped by.

McAdoo managers are openly advocating shutting up shop in New York and moving the convention to another city, on the general theory that "it is impossible for Mr. McAdoo to get a square deal in New York," and that once removed from the influences of the greatest city the convention could get somewhere. Such a decision would involve the tremendous physical difficulties, and cost for a few of its most persistent advocates is not believed to be feasible.

Another alternative, put forth today in the talk of the lobbies would have the convention simply adjourn for thirty days, convene again some where else when the hard feelings and bitter hatreds have abated, and there in the rarified atmosphere of a less hectic setting proceed to do what it has been found impossible to accomplish here—nominate a candidate. The proponents of this scheme point out that the real political campaign does not begin anyway before the last of August or September first, so there would be plenty of time.

Still other alternatives were projected into the picture today—allowing the National Committee to nominate a candidate; appointing a committee of the convention itself to nominate; and permitting the twenty odd men whose names have figured in the balloting to agree among themselves on the standard bearer.

It is not expected that any of these ideas are feasible of operation, but that they are beginning to appear is only indicative of the dire straits into which this convention has got itself.

A resolution providing for the convention to ask for the voluntary elimination of McAdoo and Smith actually was shot into the convention proceedings early this morning by Edward Frensdorff of Michigan. It was howled down by a booming vote of "noes" but there was a respectable volume of "ayes" at that. The "ayes" came from the favorite son delegations, the "noes" from the McAdoo and Smith factions and despite its overwhelming defeat it may come up again.

Then there is also the possibility that the delegates themselves, weary, broke, and yearning to get home as they seldom have ever yearned before, may decide to take this convention out of the hands of both McAdoo and Smith, and provide the spectacle of a landslide rush to any candidate who seems to be in a fair way to two thirds.

Only two of the favorite sons have responded to Mr. McAdoo's invitation to eliminate themselves—Senator Ralston of Indiana, and ex-governor Cox of Ohio.

Their withdrawal effected the balloting not one whit in so far as a decision between McAdoo and Smith is concerned. Ohio merely switched over to another son, Newton D. Baker and the show went merrily on.

Furthermore, it began to be apparent today that the voluntary withdrawal of Senator Ralston "did not mean much" as one Hoosier delegate put it. Tom Taggart and his Indiana delegation still consider the Hoosier Senator "an ideal compromise," and they believe that even yet, when this convention has been so long floundering about now, he may come back in the morning with the morale prestige of having been the first to respond to a call of party sacrifice.

Highly Priced Decoration

The British Victoria cross, given for conspicuous bravery, was instituted in 1856 on the close of the Crimean war, and was given to citizens who had borne arms against the Indian mutineers. In 1911 the decoration was extended to the Indian army. A bar may be awarded for an additional act of bravery. With the decoration is a pension for noncommissioned officers and men of £10 ($50) a year; with an addition of £5 ($25) for each bar.

"Spring Cleaning" Old Custom. What we call "spring cleaning" is said to go back to the Passover. From that time there has been a custom whereby everything in a house should be cleaned in the early part of the year. The custom was common among the Jews, especially those who settled in Holland, and gradually the whole of the Dutch nation became impregnated with this idea. From the Netherlands the custom spread to England.

Elephant More Intelligent Than Dog. Some idea of an elephant's capacities may be reached by comparing him with the dog, with whose intelligence we are familiar. Making allowance for the dog's "opportunities" under man's training, science has come to doubt whether the most exceptionally intelligent dog possesses comprehensive faculties equal to those of the wild elephant fresh from the jungle.

School Children's Coloring Contest---224 Prizes

70 in Cash 160 Theatre Tickets---10 Each Week

IT IS EASY TO WIN---THERE ARE 14 PRIZES EACH WEEK

Little Artists, here is a page that will interest you. It offers an opportunity to show your ability and to use your artistic "knack" to win prizes. It's lots of fun, and there is money in it besides.

Color the Advertisements on This Page the Way They Ought to Be

Prizes will be awarded each week to those who reproduce the colors of all the original labels, packages, trade-marks or designs on this page most carefully, faithfully and neatly. The designs which are black and white reproductions of original labels, packages, trade-marks and designs, are to be colored in the most artistic manner and judging will be done on this basis, together with the neatness of the work. The coloring may be done either in water colors or crayons. This contest is open to school children everywhere. PRIZES WILL BE AWARDED EACH WEEK AS FOLLOWS:

FIRST PRIZE, $5.00; SECOND PRIZE, $3.00; THIRD PRIZE, $1.00; FOURTH PRIZE, $1.00.

The next ten in order of merit will receive a ticket to the Liberty theatre for Saturday afternoon. This contest will run for 16 weeks. At the close an additional prize of $10.00 will be awarded the child turning in the best page during this period.

IMPORTANT! All designs on this page must be colored and the entire page sent in. Where original labels and trade marks appear, prizes will be awarded for the efforts that are nearest like the originals.

All the merchandise bearing labels and trade-marks appearing on this page can be purchased in the stores you patronize. They are all high-class products in daily use in all families. You are familiar with most of them; if there are any you cannot color from memory, procure one of the packages and enter the contest. After you have colored the entire page, mail it to the "School Children's Contest," Clearfield Progress. All efforts must be in the Progress office on or before 6 p. m. the first Tuesday after the page is published. The week's prize winners will be announced the following Friday.

ASK YOUR PARENTS AND OLDER BROTHERS AND SISTERS TO HELP YOU. START TODAY. You can have a jolly good time at it, improve your drawing ability and surely win one of the 224 prizes to be given for the work.

It Pays to Advertise

Many a woman standing in front of a shop window has merely stopped to reflect.

This summer dresses are here and the modest man hopes the girl between him and the light is wearing a bathing suit also.

The older a little girl gets the more her candy costs.

Some marry for better or worse and some for board.

Hound dogs sit around and howl at the moon. Calamity howlers sit around and howl at nothing.

The world seems to be peaceful only during those months having a '2' in them.

You read about many formerly rich men dying poor and just as many formerly poor men dying rich.

It is easy to get a boy to take a hose and let him water the lawn.

All work and no play makes Jack a scarce article.

Backsliding gives others a chance to step in your face.

Fireworks may be scarce on the Fourth of July but bottle customers always see as many as usual.

The nicest thing about troubles is every morning you find some brand new ones to worry about.

A vacation in time saves nine.

It's cheap, which is why they call it the gift of gab.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

The members of John Shade Post of the American Legion are to be congratulated upon the huge success, financially and otherwise, they made on their big celebration. The local Legionnaires have established a reputation which guarantees a crowd every time they advertise a celebration or "doings" of any kind. They are on the level, always playing square with their patrons by giving them a real show and their money's worth every time. When John Shade Post gives its word the people know that word will be kept.

The artistic taste developed in the trimming of the many floats appearing in yesterday's big Industrial parade was the subject of most favorable comment by all out of town visitors, and these preparing same have every reason to congratulate themselves. There were many fine displays but first prize was appropriately awarded Daisy Thora Johnston for her Hat Shop display. The idea was original with Mrs. Johnston, who also prepared the display herself doing the planning and directing of the work, assisted alone by her store force, which is further subject for congratulation.

Clearfield is some town for a celebration. The Park is a great asset and is a real place of rest and recreation. That helps get the crowd.

Y. BOYS BREAK CAMP

The boys from Camp Spimbo landed in town Wednesday afternoon from their headquarters on Montgomery Creek after having spent one big week roughing it in camp. A wonderful time was the thought of every one. From the first "reville" to the last "tattoo" by bugler "Macaroni" Edmiston, the program was a busy one. The first night after the dishes had been licked, bunks rapped up, the program and the rules explained and the kitchen police assigned, the bunch was divided into two teams. The bugler, who was to captain one of the teams, called his hard-boiled "Eggs" together to crack them up a bit; and the "Jolly" Miller threatened to skin the "Hams" if they did not listen to their captain. The athletic activities continued for seven days. The Hams proved the Swiftest and scrambled the Eggs by a few points. They even beat them up in bowling.

The treasure hunts proved a feature also and the campers worked hard and long following the hidden directions the paper and blazed trails. E. Miller, E. MacAlvaine and T. Smeal lead the trail in the first hunt and found their box of chocolates in the top of an oak. C. Miller, "Shredded Wheat" Kinkadee and Stuart Tate found the second treasure under a large stone. Bruce Wrigley, after resting a while on the same stone, got up just in time for the winners to raise it. The hunters thought they could run all around the S-State but he fooled them. Getting lost hunting the Water Dam and seeing the Spimbo "spooks" outside the windows were also exciting moments.

All the boys secured some kind of an emblem. In the order named they won them on points in Health, Neatness, Promptness, Cheerfulness, Manners, Trustworthiness, Achievement, Industry and in helping others. C. Miller, MacAlvaine, E. Miller, Wrigley, Edmiston, Smeal, Tate, and Quigley won the standard camp emblem and Ellis, Kinkadee and Pownall a red triangle. A secret order, called the Camp Spimbo Boosters Club, was organized among the ones who secured the standard emblem of C. S. They will meet throughout the winter and make plans for next season.

TAYLOR'S WORK FOR COMPENSATION BILL

When the news that the adjusted compensation bill has been passed over the Presidential veto by the senate flashed from Washington to Indianapolis where fifty or more American Legion national executive committee men were in session, one name, and one name only was in their minds—John Thomas Taylor.

For more than five years Taylor, a young Washington lawyer of recognized brilliance and an ardent Legionist, had been directing the Legion's fight for passage of the bill. Either as chairman or vice chairman of the Legion's national legislative committee, he had been steering legislation beneficial to the disabled veterans and their ex-service men. He knew every senator, every representative in Washington. He was liked for his winning personality, his brilliance of mind and ability to present a case convincingly. Men in whose hands rested the fate of legislation in which the Legion was interested, six times he had got the adjusted compensation measure through the house by overwhelming majorities. Three times the senate had intervened and blocked its final passage; once the late President Harding had swept away Taylor's efforts with a stroke of the pen.

But this time he intended nothing should stop him. The crucial moment had arrived. The battle is hottest, I think, and don't lose my head," he said. "I am sure skill he brought the bill through while his defeated efforts were being delayed by the senate.

John Thomas Taylor.

As the time drew close for the final vote, Taylor, sitting on the floor, outlined his campaign. He was present, jotted on a piece of paper which he held before him, the bill had twenty-seven amendments.

As the bill moved the floor for the final vote, Taylor, sitting on the floor, outlined his campaign. He was present, jotted on a piece of paper which he held before him, the bill had twenty-seven amendments.

Taylor began his army life as a buck private in the infantry, May, 1917. He was then thirty-two years old. In August, 1917, he went to an officers' training camp and came out a first lieutenant. Seventeen months of overseas service followed during which he fought at Chateau Thierry, Vesle and Meuse-Argonne. His outfit was the first to cross the border when the Army of Occupation moved into Germany. He was discharged a captain and returned to Washington to pick up his neglected law practice. But Legion work interested him, and he found the time to be responsible for a large measure for the passage of any piece of legislation, notably the adjusted bill, which increased the compensation of disabled comrades.

Curwensville's Own Column

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bartelle and child are in Curwensville from Detroit and will spend a few weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Blake, who have also returned from a months vacation trip.

William Mumma met with an accident up at the Crescent Refractories brick yard yesterday by which one of his feet was severely injured. Dr. Blair treated the injury.

Louis Marchetto, who at one time was the blacksmith at the Bailey quarries, and later located in Pittsburgh, is in town with his family and will visit for several weeks.

Miss Maude Dickie, of Oakland, Clarion county, has been in Curwensville for some few days and is the guest of Miss Helen Rupert.

Kenneth Wall and William Kittleberger, two of the town's young men who have no desire to be idle, have formed a partnership and will engage in the roof-painting business. They have already secured a number of contracts.

Lester and Mose Whittaker, sons of Reuben Whittaker, Harry Smith and Gene Riddle are determined to see something of the western country and have started on a long automobile trip, expecting to go clear thru to the Pacific coast. May luck attend their venture.

Miss M. Alice Thompson has gone over into the Bellefonte territory and will remain several weeks among friends.

Tuesday Miss Grace Sawtelle entertained the members of her Sunday School class in picnic style over at the river park. Everybody enjoyed the outing immensely, especially the bathing privileges.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gardlock have gone to Williamsport for a short period, after which they expect to move on to Valley Falls, N. Y., and spend a month with their daughter, Mrs. Kester.

William Moore, Harrisburg, was a Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Gates over Sunday. "Quaker" has gotten some high faluten notions into his cranium since his sojourn at the Capitol City, and hardly noticed any of his old time Curwensville cronies. A curt nod and not even a smile is about all that the "Quaker" condescended to give us. All right, small favors received and smaller ones in proportion, my fine laddy buckaroo.

Some of Curwensville's youthful sandlot practitioners went over to Glen Richey Tuesday to show the mining element just how the game of modern baseball was played. Our fellows returned home much weaker and wiser than when they landed in Glen Richey, being defeated to the tune of rogues march 9 to 1. How sad.

Mrs. B. H. Conley's Sunday School class of the Presbyterian church went down to the farm home of Miss Ida Henry, near the Susquehanna bridge, and spent the day picnicking.

Mrs. Joseph G. Fullerton and her sister, Mrs. Margaret Russell, went over to Glen Richey one day this week and spent the time with their father, Mr. David Reed, Sr.

Frank Light who had a foot injured several weeks ago while working in the Wylie mines, is able to be about on crutches, but it will be some time yet before he is able to work.

Marlin L. Benson is home from Akron, Ohio, for a short vacation which will be spent at the home of his father, Ernie Benson, over on Bloomington Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eastburn arrived in Curwensville yesterday from Trenton N. J., via the auto route. Mr. Eastburn who has been interested in the Roaring Run Stone quarries will go over the plant and measure up conditions for another big order.

Wednesday evening instead of the regular prayer meeting session in the Methodist Episcopal church, a program of patriotism, song and prayer was held. The exercises were conducive to the time and place, and interesting throughout.

Mrs. (Dr.) Blair and three children have gone to Merchantville, N. J., for a vacation visit, which gives the Dr. an elegant chance to remain away from home at later evening hours and talk over the events happening in Madison Square Garden at the Democratic National Convention.

WOODLAND

A new baby boy arrived Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lumadue.

The town was almost devoid of its population today, nearly everybody having gone to other towns and villages to enjoy the 4th of July festivities. However, there remained a few of us old timers, who love peace and quiet, and who deemed it our duty to stay right in Curwensville so that strangers might be directed on the right road to points out of town. We do not blame our citizens for going away from town on holidays, as this burg hardly ever has gumption enough to promote any specific enjoyments by which they would take pleasure in remaining at home instead of going abroad.

Dr. and Mrs. Miles Wall who made a motor trip through a portion of central Ohio have returned home very much delighted with their trip. They missed the big storm by a hair breadth, but saw enough of the storms result to satisfy them that it must have been a jim dandy bluster.

J. Roll Bloom came up from Scranton Tuesday where he has been engaged on bridge construction work and will remain in Curwensville the balance of the week.

Willard Snyder of New Kensington is visiting at the home of his mother Mrs. Geo. Snyder.

Reese Valmont of Surveyor, was a visitor in town on Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Turner attended the funeral of the latter's uncle Vance Stone, of Stoneville on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Palmer entertained a number of young folks at a party at their home on Tuesday evening in honor of their nephews and nieces, Jack, Rosh, Josephine and Kathryn Holt, of Springfield, Mass.

Miss Tudy Hull, of Mineral Springs entertained the girls of her Sunday School class and their friends at her home on Tuesday evening.

Must Hang

Mrs. Kathryn Halsey of Hope, N. H., must hang for the murder of her husband, Fred Halsey, wealthy cattle man. Two male accomplices, Luther Foster and Claude B. Archer, must die with her. The death plot, in which the woman, according to testimony at her trial, played the leading role, dated back to the Christmas holidays last year, authorities said.

A Raveling Story

Mary Anne, just five years old, was watching the new cook make a pie. She watched her roll out the crust, fit it in the pan and then take up the knife to cut off the pieces which extended over the edge of the pan. "Oh, I want to make a little pie," she exclaimed. "Can I have the ravelings of dough you just cut off for it?"

Adventure

Most housebreaking must be for the sake of adventure. There is seldom anything in the house worth the danger.

Peculiar Combinations

An English woman recently wrote to a newspaper saying that she was born A. Mann (Allie Mann). She married a Mr. Husband, and so became A. Husband. He died and she married again, this time a Mr. Maiden. Becoming a widow for a second time, she concludes that, though born A. Mann, she will die A. Maiden.

BEFORE BABIES WERE BORN

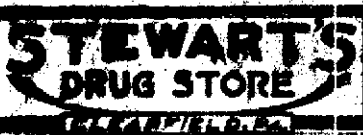

Mrs. Oswald Benefited by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Girardville, Pa.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before my last two babies came. It keeps me in perfect health and I am on my feet getting meals and doing all my housework until an hour before the baby is born. A friend told me to take it and I have used ten bottles since I heard about it. I recommend the Vegetable Compound whenever I can. Just yesterday a friend was telling me how miserable she felt, and I said, 'If you start taking Lydia E. Pinkham's you will feel fine.' Now she is taking it."—Mrs. P. J. Oswald, Jr., 406 W. Ogden St., Girardville, Pa.

Mrs. Nicola Paluzzi Says
Mishawaka, Indiana.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weakness before my babies were born. I was weak and tired out all the time and it helped me. When I had inward inflammation the doctor treated me, but it did not help me, so I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Sensitive Wash and it helped me right away. I will always have your medicines."—Mrs. NICOLA PALUZZI, 415 E. Broadway, Mishawaka, Indiana.

Now Is The Time To Start Drinking More Milk

Of course, it's a good thing to do any time, but why not start it first thing tomorrow morning? When you have eaten your fruit for your breakfast, and prepare for your favorite breakfast food, use just a little more milk and enjoy your breakfast more.

Then, if you feel sort of hungry during the morning, while you wait for the paper, drink a glass of milk. Again, use lots of milk in preparing your dinner dishes. There are so many ways that milk can be used in preparing dishes for your dinner that will be easier and quicker, that once you have started the idea you appreciate what we have been telling you—that milk is your greatest ally during the summer months.

If the kiddies get hungry in the afternoon, give them a glass of milk or some bread and milk. Lunch at night should be more milk and if they are hungry at bedtime, milk again.

Lots of milk, but—it's the best thing every member of the family can consume during the summer. Be sure it's pasteurized.

DEMOCRATS QUIT UNTIL MONDAY MORNING

FIRST BALLOT IS BARREN OF RESULT; OHIO BREAKS ON THE 74TH ROLL CALL

Madison Square Garden, New York, July 5.—(INS)—The Democratic National Convention resorted to arbitration late today after taking 77 ballots in a futile effort to nominate a presidential candidate.

Sen. King of Utah moved an adjournment until 11 o'clock Monday morning. There was vociferous objection, but Walsh finally ruled the adjournment motion had passed.

The conclusion of a hectic day which had witnessed efforts to move the convention to Kansas City ad seen three efforts to narrow the field of candidates down by elimination failed to bring a vote from the floor. A number of the leaders got together in the middle of the afternoon and reported out a resolution which provided, in effect that Coriell Hull, Chairman of the National Committee and Thomas J. Walsh, permanent Chairman of the Convention, be appointed a committee of two to consult the representatives of all candidates and try to "reach an understanding which will hasten the conclusion of this convention."

The resolution follows:
"I move that when this convention adjourns today the Chairman of the Democratic National Committee and of the Convention be requested to call a conference of their representatives of the candidates whose names are to be balloted for and who have been formally placed for the purpose of reaching an understanding so as to hasten the conclusion of this Convention."

It was adopted with only a few votes in opposition.

Immediately after this was adopted the convention adjourned until 11:00 Monday morning, the consultations and conferences of Hull and Walsh with the candidates' managers to take place in the meanwhile.

The plan agreed upon—for Walsh and Hull to arbitrate the matter—has the endorsement of all the various candidates, it was said by those in the conferences.

There was considerable kicking about at first but the more non-partisan among the party leaders like Hull and Walsh absolutely insisted that something be done. They pointed out that the convention, over their head at the moment, was then engaged in taking the 77th ballot and that 77 more would probably prove futile under existing conditions.

They insisted that from the standpoint of harmony, mutual advantage and everything else the present situation was intolerable and becoming intolerable.

DELEGATES REFUSE TO DROP FAVORITE SONS BY ELIMINATING ONE ON EACH VOTE

Madison Square Garden, N. Y., July 5.—Twice within the first two hours of its session today the Democratic National Convention voted down proposals that would have provided for progressive elimination of favorite sons candidates for the President.

Both resolutions were designed to break the deadlock that has continued for six days through 73 ballots and both were made by the McAdoo forces and opposed by the anti-McAdoo forces.

The first of these proposals by Ed. H. Hemans, a delegate from Oklahoma was howled down by a viva voce vote without a roll call. It was too drastic. It would have provided for the elimination of all but two candidates by automatically dropping off the lowest man on each ballot, until only the pair were left—McAdoo and Smith.

The second proposal was by ex-senator Gilbert Hitchcock of Nebraska and was considerably less rigorous. It would have eliminated all but five, the eliminations to have lasted only for one day.

Hitchcock's resolution follows:
"Resolved: It is the sense of this convention that ending with the 76th ballot the candidate receiving the lowest vote should signify to his supporters his withdrawal as a candidate, until only 5 candidates remain before the convention, such withdrawal to remain effective for this day only."

On this resolution there was a roll call and was overwhelmingly defeated by a vote of 496 ayes to 559 nays. It would require a two-thirds vote to pass because a suspension of the rules was involved.

Washington, July 5 (INS)—Second Assistant Secretary of State, A. A. Ade, died here today. He was 82 years old.

Moving Of Convention To Kansas City Is Voted Down Almost Unanimous

Madison Square Garden, New York, July 5.—A sensational move to take the Democratic National Convention away from New York and reconvene it again in Kansas City on July 21st, was overwhelmingly defeated on the floor of Madison Square Garden this afternoon in a roll call vote.

The movement was sponsored by A. H. Ferguson, a delegate from Durant, Okla. He presented a resolution declaring that inasmuch as it was evident this convention was getting nowhere, it should be adjourned after the 7th ballot to assemble again in Kansas City three weeks hence.

Despite vigorous objections raised by the Smith and allied forces in the convention, Chairman Walsh ordered that the Oklahoman's resolution was perfectly in order and should be voted on.

In the end, after a series of hurried consultations, the Smith and McAdoo forces joined in sending the move down to crashing defeat.

MILL EXPLOSION KILLS FOUR NEAR BRADFORD, PA.

Bradford, Pa., July 5, (INS)—Four men are dead and two are in a critical condition today at a local hospital as the result of injuries received when the plant of the Luminol Corporation, of Pittsburgh, at Lewis Run, was destroyed by a gas explosion late Thursday afternoon.

The dead: Joel Light, 25, Allentown, Pa., expert chemist; Joe Minchie, 25, Lewis Run; Victor Deprater, 24, East Wear; Paul Frank, 25, mining engineer, chemist.

The injured: George Wisegarber, 26 of Waynesburg, manager of the plant and son of the president of the Luminol Corporation; John Minchie, 17, Lewis Run, brother of one of the dead men.

The bodies were blown 200 feet from the plant and were almost unrecognizable. The plant was only opened last week and is a complete wreck.

LAST NIGHT'S DOPE

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

New York, July 5.—Deadlocked for 70 ballots, and seemingly deadlocked for that many more unless Wm. G. McAdoo and Gov. Al Smith cannot be prevailed upon to eliminate themselves, thus allowing a compromise on a third man, the tired, bewildered delegates to the Democratic National convention went back to Madison Square Garden today and took up the weary grind of answering roll calls.

Overnight developments offered but little promise of the convention making any more headway in its little of the ballots than it has made in the five previous days. Suggestions that the only solution of this unprecedented situation lies in the withdrawal of both leading candidates began to be heard with increasing frequency as the sixth day got under way.

Ardmore Policemen Shot, One Seriously Hurt. In Approach To Klan Meet

Ardmore, Pa., July 5. (INS)—Lower Merion township police authorities were prepared to "do battle to the death" with alleged members of the Ku Klux Klan in this vicinity, following the shooting of two officers who were on their way to investigate the burning of a fire cross on the Haverford College grounds.

Captain James I. Donaghy, Police Chief, issued orders to his men that they were to "shoot to kill" any persons appearing in the regalia of the Klan.

A fire alarm was sent in by residents who first saw the fiery cross burning, according to Donaghy's report, and Francis Roy and Albert Miller, policemen, responded. They were walking across a meadow toward the blaze when they saw two figures slinking away in the darkness. They ordered them to halt and instead, they were shot. Roy was seriously injured.

A reward of $1,000 has been offered for identification of the men.

FINE HEALTH REPORT

Secretary Gaulin of the Board of Health in his weekly report states that but two cases of communicable disease were reported to the Board of Health during the past week. One was chicken pox and the other scarlet fever.

There are but five cases of contagion in the town under quarantine. They are located as follows—
First Ward—None.
Second Ward—Measles.
3rd Ward—Scarlet fever, 1; Measles, 2; Chicken Pox, 1.
4th Ward—None.

Klan Plank Bops Up To Disturb La Follette's Cleveland Convention

Cleveland, July 5 (INS).—The resolutions committee of the conference for Progressive political action, engaged in drafting a platform upon which Senator Robert M. La Follette will make his Independent presidential race unexpectedly found itself confronted today with one of the most troublesome of all political questions—the Ku Klux Klan.

Just as the committee members were congratulating themselves that they had avoided the embarrassment of dealing with this problem, a small group of men appeared with a proposed plank denouncing the Klan by name. Failure to incorporate it in the platform, they would, would result in the taking of the fight directly to the floor of the convention as the Democrats did in New York.

COOLIDGE'S SON IS VERY ILL OF BLOOD POISONING TODAY

Washington, July 5, (INS)—The condition of Calvin Coolidge, Jr., son of the President, who is seriously ill at the White House with blood poisoning was unchanged at 2:50 o'clock this afternoon.

Physicians have been in attendance at his bedside for 24 hours, and both the President and Mrs. Coolidge were in and out of the sick room during the night.

UNION SERVICES FROM JULY 13 TO AUGUST 24.

Both because of the spirit of fellowship among the ministers of Clearfield and to strengthen the fraternal and Christian relations among these churches, the pastors have arranged for union meetings on Sunday nights from July 13 to August 24. The places of meeting are Trinity church, July 20, alternating through the period. No announcement of the preacher will be made. The services, however, will be featured. Music will be exceptional in some respects right along. It may not be the selections always; probably the folks that lead. The respective Churches have entered into this plan with fine unanimity and enthusiasm. It promises much for the entire community; it offers much in opportunity and service to the people. The Baptist, Lutheran, Trinity Methodist, Presbyterian and Protestant Episcopal Churches are joining in this union meeting plan. And their respective members will support from duty, privilege and interest in the major objectives of these meetings.

La Follette Will Run; Trust Me, He Says, Old Parties Unfaithful

Cleveland July 4.—Tossing his hat into the ring as an independent candidate for President Senator Robert M. La Follette, of Wisconsin, has created a tangled political situation which may bear strange fruit, possibly throwing the election of a Chief Executive into the House of Representatives for the first time in a hundred years.

The formal announcements of La Follette's candidacy was read here today to the Conference for Progressive Political Action—which is paving the way for a vigorous campaign—in the mammoth hall where Calvin Coolidge was nominated three weeks ago, and as the Democratic Convention in New York continued deadlocked in its choice of a candidate.

To Fill In All States
"I shall submit my name as an independent Progressive candidate for President, together with the names of 49 qualified candidates for electors, for filing on the ballots in every state in the union," the announcement read. "My appeal will be addressed to every class of the people and to every section of the country."

La Follette's answer came in response to a petition from the convention. He will be nominated formally tomorrow as an Independent, not as the leader of a third party. He explains his attitude on this point in his lengthy letter which scores the two old parties and carries an outline of his policies.

When the message had been read Herman Willis offered a resolution to nominate him at once by acclamation. This move was opposed by Morris Hillquit, New York Socialist, as premature. Hillquit said the National Committee planned to make nominations tomorrow. This view was sustained.

Word from La Follette, read by his son, "Young Bob", came as a climax to the all-day opening session of the progressive convention, which was priming itself for this announcement, and greeted every mention of the Wisconsin Senator's name with roars of applause from all parts of the great auditorium. Young La Follette was frequently interrupted by enthusiastic cheers, sweeping the crowd.

Declaring that "the time has come for concerted action," La Follette said, "Even if both Republicans and Democratic conventions have adopted thoroughgoing progressive platforms the people have learned that neither party could be trusted to keep its promises."

FIND BOY WHO HAS BEEN LOST 4 DAYS ON FAYETTE HILLS

LEGION CELEBRATION SET A NEW HIGH MARK FOR ENTERTAINMENT; PARADE IS MOST POPULAR FEATURE; SPORTS FINE

Railroaders Walk Off With First Prize and Verdict Is Unanimous; It Was a Great Show.

WEATHERM'N KIND

Another Fourth of July is over and marked down upon the pages of the glorious history of this glorious country of ours, and once more has John Shade Post of the American Legion not only demonstrated its ability to foster a really worth while exhibition but again covers itself with glory for the general excellence of the entertainment furnished at their big two day celebration.

The two day program of baseball, racing, and general park entertainment, which reached its climax yesterday afternoon when 20,000 people swarmed into the park, was high-class in every feature and particular and amply repaid all pleasure seekers for their efforts in coming to Clearfield. The high standard of local American Legion entertainments in the past was more than maintained and it is needless to add that every visitor to the town went home more than well pleased with the day spent in Clearfield.

Crowds Not So Large on Third
The crowd on Thursday was not so large as expected, the great majority of people of this region feeling one day was about all they could stand for pleasure and the effervescence of their patriotism. However a fine program was given at the park, consisting of three fine races, a baseball game between the Philadelphia and Clearfield C. & C. League teams, which was won by Clearfield 3 to 1. The matchless LaPel and the daring and intrepid Marie Collier added their full measure to the entertainment, while Geo. Bobyn's big midway also provided entertainment for the visitors.

The Fourth was one real big day and that, too, despite the rain which trickled gently down throughout the entire morning and no doubt kept hundreds of people at home. Hostilities opened with the big industrial parade, and it sure was one big parade.

Clearfield business concerns, business men and citizens generally, have every reason to be proud of that parade. We doubt if there are many other towns in this region where its like could be presented. No community stands more squarely or more solidly behind its American Legion Post than does old Clearfield and this fact was exemplified, once more in the spirit in which our people entered their industrial parade. The parade itself beggars description and was a revelation to the stranger within our gates. Hundreds of people drove into Clearfield from all over Central Pennsylvania just to see that parade and none were disappointed. It certainly was worth seeing. The standard of the floats was so high that each and every one deserve favorable comment and as that would require two newspapers the size of ours, we will limit our comment to the report of the Parade Judges, which meets with our hearty approval in every particular and detail. That report follows:

July 4th
Report American Legion
Parade Committee
Gentlemen:—
Your float judges beg to report as follows:
For the club and fraternal organization class we are unanimous in awarding the cup to the Brotherhood Railway Trainmen, Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, who had not only an excellent float but men in line. Honorable mention in this class was awarded in the order named as follows: Clearfield Commercial Club, Playgrounds, especially the West Side playground; the B. F. O. The American Legion Auxiliary.

HAD VERY CLOSE CALL

The only near-accident reported to us during yesterday's big time occurred on Market street in front of Cook's store when a nurse girl carrying one of Dr. and Mrs. Geo. J. Breth's twin babies, was struck and knocked down by an automobile driven by Frank Stewart. The car was very nearly stopped when it struck the girl and while both nurse and child fell to the street, fortunately both escaped injury.

SWAT THE FLY! SWAT THE FLY! SWAT THE FLY!

On Monday morning the local Board of Health will start a fly elimination campaign under the direction of Health Officer Gaulin. It will be a campaign not only for the elimination of the fly we have with us but an effort to stop the generations yet unborn.

Starting bright and early Monday morning the Boy Scouts will distribute fly swatters and attached thereto, will be a folder issued by the State Department of Health. This folder is in cartoon style bearing an impressive lesson on the reasons why the fly should be done away with.

It is the intention of Health Officer Gaulin to carry this campaign through to a successful conclusion and he wishes every householder in this city to co-operate.

The place to start eliminating the fly is to destroy the breeding places and the rubbish and waste matter which gives them food. You, Mr. Home Owner, can do this by cleaning up your premises and doing away with the breeding places.

The stores in the city where you would naturally look for something to aid you in the fight for the elimination of the fly, are co-operating with the Board of Health and offering many things which will be of material aid in the campaign.

So SWAT THE FLY, destroy his breeding places, make Clearfield a flyless town.

NEW STAR SHINES IN COLOR CONTEST; BOYD AGAIN WINS

To Arnold Leipold goes the first prize in the Coloring Contest for this week. And the judges were unanimous in their opinion that Arnold's page was and is the best page which has ever been submitted to them among the hundreds of pages they have gone over. There is a finish to this page which would do great credit to an artist many years Arnold's senior.

Miriam Boyd secured second prize in close competition with a new contestee, Mary Adam. Of course, Mary was given third prize, also being eliminated from second place. Mary Louise Ginery was awarded fourth prize.

Tickets to the Liberty Theatre were awarded to Billy Rossmore, Helen Virginia Gearhart, Alvera, Daniel Herrman, Robert, Dixie Jane Davis, Ethel, Elms Stage and Miriam Boyd, this city.

Madison Square Garden, New York, July 5.—Short in temper and funds and with another expensive week-end in New York staring them in the face unless an agreement is reached today, delegates to the Democratic National Convention trod their well worn path to the Garden again this morning and resumed their endurance contest over the selection of a presidential nominee.

If the temper of the delegates has been frayed before, it was positively jagged today—the sixth of this history-making deadlock over a matter that usually is decided in less than half that time.

"We want to go home," was the universal wail.

The hungry doughboys in the A. E. F. never waited it with more fervor. But the strong prejudices and unrelenting bitterness that have combined to tie up this gathering day after day seemingly were just as pronounced a fever. And when the first heavy-eyed delegates straggled into the Garden at 10:30 o'clock the outlook appeared gloomy for a decision today. Everything looked gloomy, the weather included. The skies were overcast and sullen and threatening to spit rain any minute.

The local played sad and melancholy music while the delegates drifted in and wearily found their seats.

Notwithstanding less than half of them were in their seats at 10:45, Chairman Walsh called the convention to order.

The 71st ballot brought comparatively little change in the standing of the candidates.

Mr. Adams again ran his total above the 500 mark as he did last night but failed to increase the figures. Smith stayed where he was and there was no difference in the favorite son showing.

The apathy of the delegates was again the fact that no applause greeted the hectic announcements of "so many for Smith" and "so many for McAdoo". The votes were old songs. They had been sung before—seventy times. The delegates read newspapers and otherwise amused themselves.

While the 71st ballot was in progress, Tom Taggart, George Brennan, Wm. Jennings Bryan and other leaders of lesser note were holding a quiet meeting in a little room under the stage. They have talked several times during the last 24 hours—always fruitlessly.

The first ballot taken, the 71st, was as follows:

McAdoo 528½.
Smith 334½.
Davis 67.
Underwood 37½.
Glass 25.
Baker 56.
Ritchie 16½.
Robinson 21.
Walsh of Montana 1.
Owen 2.
Gov. Bryan 2.
Saulsbury 6.

The 72nd ballot was similarly unproductive of any appreciable change. The lines held firm and the totals for each candidate varied but little.

Ohio Breaks.
The 74th ballot was marked by the breaking up of Ohio's block of 48 votes which had gone solidly for Cox or Newton D. Baker since the balloting started.

Ohio split her vote among nine candidates and gave McAdoo not one vote. Gov. Smith got 20½ of the 48.

This ballot also marked the end of agreement between Michigan leaders and the McAdoo forces under which Michigan had given Smith a majority again.

The Ohio and Michigan switches brought Gov. Smith up to the highest total he has yet attained, 364, barely short of third of the convention.

Smith Gains Veto Power.

While the 76th ballot, which showed comparatively little change, was in progress, there was a meeting of Smith leaders, McAdoo leaders and the managers of favorite sons under the speaker's platform, at which various subjects were discussed for breaking the deadlock.

One of the principal questions discussed was that of taking an adjournment shortly until next Monday morning to give everybody time to cool off and get together.

Governor Smith on the 76th ballot climbed above the "veto mark" of 367 votes and for the first time during the convention, he had been in Tyne, who will be 89 on Monday July 7th.

After the 78th ballot Tom Taggart of Indiana was recognized and moved that Cordell Hull, Chairman of the National Committee and Senator

Thomas J. Walsh, permanent Chairman, be appointed a committee of two to confer with the representatives of all the candidates to see if an agreement cannot be reached that will hasten the conclusion of this convention.

The Taggart resolution passed overwhelmingly.

H. Moore, Maple Run, Pa.; Mrs. Lizzie A. Wise, Curwensville, Pa.; Mark A. Caldwell, New Millport; James Caldwell an old Clearfield Countian, but for some years past residing with his daughter, in Tyne, who will be 89 on Monday July 7th.

Mrs. Wise, Mrs. McNeil and Mrs. Moore are sisters of Mrs. Fink and Mark A. Caldwell a brother.

James Caldwell is an uncle of the above named, a great uncle of Mrs. Armsey, Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Haines and Reuben McNeil and a great, great uncle of Dorothy and Thomas Armsey and Betty Jane and Wava Hene Foster.

They all enjoyed the very fine parade and the men folks the good ball game, races and other entertainments at the Park in the afternoon.

Two Ways To Build a Car

The Hupmobile Quality-Proof exhibit shows you two ways of building a motor car.

You don't have to be an expert on fine motor car practice to understand Hupmobile Quality-Proof.

Every part is labeled. Its material is given in plain English.

The lesser practice is also told. You can see it all for yourself. Here is the kind of proof you are justified in demanding from any car.

Hupmobile Quality-Proof shows you not only fine material. It shows you fine engineering design and fine manufacturing—as fine as can be done by trained mechanics and modern precision machinery.

Hupmobile owners could tell you how much these things mean in satisfaction—in saving them money and time—in making their Hupmobile pay as no other car ever before paid them.

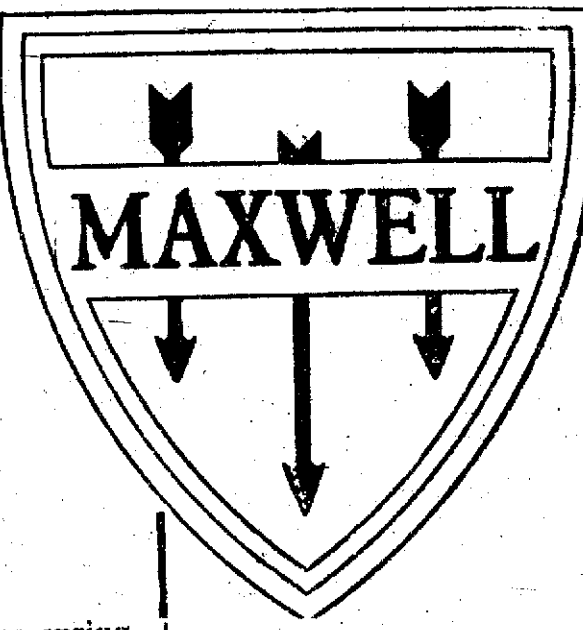

Come in soon—and learn how a motor car must be built to give you the satisfaction every motorist desires.

Walter P. Chrysler says Maxwell Now Sets a New Pace.

The good Maxwell is displaying the possibilities of the four-cylinder car, in the very things people want in motor cars, in a way they have never been demonstrated before.

With the active participation of the Chrysler Six engineering staff, the process of betterment begun three years ago was tremendously accelerated.

Knowing that the latest Maxwell developments approach the revolutionary in both practice and results, I have every justification in the world for calling Maxwell a most wonderful four-cylinder car.

The difference in the way the Maxwell rides and drives and steers will impress you instantly.

You will be expecting the vibration you've always felt behind a four-cylinder engine.

But you will be delightfully disappointed—and surprised. For we have taken that vibration away from Maxwell. It's gone.

The device which accomplishes this result in Maxwell—for the first time, we believe, in a four-cylinder car—is nothing more than a floating platform spring under the front end of the motor—but it is exclusive to Maxwell.

You can safely count on 22 miles to the gallon or better, and 18,000 miles per set of tires. Those figures are not ours, but the average of Maxwell owner reports.

Main bearings rarely if ever replaced; a longer-lived, smoother-running car because vibration is practically eliminated.

That's the way we are building the good Maxwell today—with a far greater proportion of costly alloy steels than is usual at its price.

Those are the results which I want to drive home to every man and woman who is in the market for a car.

You probably have your own ideas about a motor car and what you want it to do.

The most I ask is that you compare Maxwell riding and driving and performance with those ideas of yours, and then decide for yourself whether any other four you know of can match up to Maxwell.

of the Evening School, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

Lesson for July 6 THE BIRTH OF JESUS

LESSON TEXT—Luke 2:7-20.
GOLDEN TEXT—"For unto you is born this day in the city of David a savior, which is Christ the Lord."
Luk. 2:11.
PRIMARY TOPIC—The Baby Jesus.
JUNIOR TOPIC—What the Shepherds Saw and Heard.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—
The Greatest Event in the World's History.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Greatest Hopes Centered in the Birth of Christ.

I. Jesus' Birth Foretold (Micah 5:2).
This prediction was made some 700 years before. God moved the emperor to enforce the decree of taxation just in time to cause Mary to be at Bethlehem.

II. Jesus' Birth Announced to Mary and Joseph (Luke 1:26-38).
The mighty archangel Gabriel was sent by God to the little town of Nazareth to Mary, a Jewish maiden, who was betrothed to a carpenter of that village by the name of Joseph, solemnly announcing that she should give birth to the Messiah and that this son should not be Joseph's son but should be the child of the Holy Ghost (Mat.
1:18-21). Later the angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph, also, making the same announcement to him, and added that the child should be called Jesus, which means that Jehovah will save His people from their sins (Matt. 1: 21).

III. The Prediction Fulfilled (v. 7).
This took place at a most propitious time. The Jews were under the power of the Romans. Not only did the birth of Christ occur when all systems of religion and morality were tottering upon their foundations but at a time most suitable for the introduction of the Gospel. The whole world being under one rule made it possible for Christ's ministers to go from city to city and country to country unmolested. The Abrahamic rules in the whole universe and is never behind in His administration.

The surroundings of Christ at His birth were of a most sort. The Eternal God could not be born in a manger, but He came to be born in a manger, becoming the poorest of the poor that none might be hindered in coming unto Him.

IV. Christ's Birth Announced (vv. 8-14).
1. By Whom? The first Gospel sermon was preached by an angel of the Lord. Thus we see that the exalted ministers of God were interested in man and had part in the announcement of God's plan of salvation.

2. To Whom? His birth was announced to the shepherds who were keeping watch over their flocks by night. The fact that the glorious Gospel message was first sounded forth to them shows that poverty is no barrier to their reception, and does not reveal Himself primarily to the princes and great men of the earth, but oftentimes concerns from such and discloses to the poor. (James 2:5).

3. The Nature of the Message. It was good tidings of great joy. It was good tidings because the darkness of heathenism, which had so long covered the earth, was beginning to vanish. The casting out of Satan, the prince of this world, was about to take place. Liberty was soon to be proclaimed to those who were in bondage. The way of salvation was to be open to all. No longer was the knowledge of God to be confined to the Jews, but offered to the whole world.
Glorious news this. So glorious that a multitude of the heavenly host ac-compagned this announcement with their song of praise. Thus we see that the first Gospel sermon was in the open air. The minister was the angel of God, the choir were the angels,
the audience made up of humble shepherds.

V. The Shepherds Investigating (vv.
15, 16).

They did not stop to argue or raise questions, though these things were no doubt passing strange to them.
They went immediately to Bethlehem, where they made an investigation and found everything just as represented.
They had the privilege of first gazing upon the world's Savior, the very Lord of glory. They returned with gratitude in their hearts, praising God for all those wonderful things which
He had revealed unto them.

VI. The Shepherds Witnessing (vv.
17-20).
They found things as announced.
When they beheld the Lord of glory they could not remain silent. Therefore, they went back praising God.
Those who really hear the Gospel message cannot be silent. If they really hear they must tell it out to others.

Our Needs
The needs for this present are more important to most people than the need and preparation for eternity.—
The Living Word.

No Worth With God
Works of the flesh are of no worth with God, because the "flesh profiteth nothing."—The Living Word.

The Grace of God
The grace of God is not the backsliding kind.—The Living Word.

Don't Retire
It is nonsense to retire from business unless one has something in view that he likes better.

CHURCHES

TRINITY METHODIST CHURCH

South Second Street.
Bible School starts out with special music, 9:30 sharp, with O. T. Tobias, Supt. The Missionary program will be in charge of H. B. Powell, Jr., and the offering is special. To meet last year's record we must have 400 pres-

a goodly place for strangers and visitors to enjoy fellowship and study of the Scriptures.

Worship, 10:45 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.
Special exposition of selected Scriptures both morning and evening.

Trinity Church challenges men and strangers. To them it extends a cordial welcome. Its sittings are free; good music. It urges the week-end visitor and the unchurched to turn in tomorrow at Trinity. Strangers often attend Trinity's mid-week congregational meeting, Wednesday evening.

Idle Hours

Apartment house life, with so many chores eliminated, leaves a lot of leisure which must be provided for somehow.

too much like a tolling bell for her workhouse.

N. Y. World Calls On McAdoo-Smith To Quit

McAdoo will also make the sacrifice.
There is reason to believe that had the New York Governor been allowed to make the speech before the convention that his friends sought for him last night he would have put such a proposition before the delegates.

But while confident that Governor
Smith would be amenable to the idea of voluntary elimination, his friends asserted with vehemence today that under no circumstances would it ever come to pass unless Mr. McAdoo also is eliminated. The feeling engendered here in two bitter weeks of conflict is too great for that.

The New York World, one of the leading Democratic organs of the country, and an ardent supporter of the New York Governor, published a black faced editorial this morning under the heading of "Shall the Democratic Party Die?" It called upon the party and "all that is sanest and wisest within it to break this deadlock by the simultaneous withdrawal of both leading candidates.

"Very logical," was Governor
Smith's laconic reply to the proposition, "very presumptuous," was the tart rejoinder of Mr. McAdoo.

Around the McAdoo camp there was little indication today of surrender. His managers fairly snorted at the idea. They contended that Mr.
McAdoo had cornered more delegates than any other candidate, that he has come within twenty votes of a majority of the convention, and that if there is to be any withdrawing it must give up Governor Smith or the favorite sons whom Mr. McAdoo accuses of blocking the convention wheels.

The apparently futile balloting, under recent circumstances was demonstrated early this morning on the last two ballots taken in the Garden, the 69th and 70th. The McAdoo managers began a drive on the 69th. Aided by an agreement effected temporarily with Michigan leaders by which 23 of the Michigan votes were diverted into the McAdoo column for not to exceed five ballots, the McAdoo managers brought up all their reserves and threw them into the snarling bear pit that represents the Garden arena.
The result was but 530 votes—twenty short of a majority and 202 short of the necessary two thirds.

Try as they could the McAdoo Lieutenants could not hold the line.
The next ballot showed a recession to 528.5 and they offered but little objection when the motion to adjourn came a moment later from Tom Taggart of Indiana.

Should the proposals for the mutual elimination of McAdoo and Smith come to nothing, the convention seemed likely to face several interesting alternatives before many hours have slipped by.

McAdoo managers are openly advocating shutting up shop in New York and moving the convention to another city, on the general theory that "it is impossible for Mr. McAdoo to get a square deal in New York," and that once removed from the influences of the greatest city the convention could get somewhere. Such a decision would involve the tremendous physical difficulties, and cost approximately a few of its most persistent vocalists is not believed to be feasible.

Another alternative, put forth today in the talk of the lobbyists would have the convention simply adjourn for thirty days, convene again some where else when the hard feelings and bitter hatreds have abated, and there in the rarified atmosphere of a less hectic setting proceed to do what it has been found impossible to accomplish here—nominate a candidate. The proponents of this scheme point out that the real political campaign does not begin anyway before the last of August or September first,

so there would be plenty of time.

Still other alternatives were projected into the picture today—flowing the National Committee to nominate a candidate; appointing a committee of the convention itself to nominate; and permitting the twenty odd men whose names have figured in the balloting to agree among themselves on the standard bearer.

It is not expected that any of these ideas are feasible of operation, but that they are beginning to appear is only indicative of the dire straits into which this convention has got itself.

A resolution providing for the convention to ask for the voluntary elimination of McAdoo and Smith actually was shot into the convention proceedings early this morning by Edward Frensdorff of Michigan. It was howled down by a booming vote of "yes" but there was a respectable volume of "ayes" at that. The "ayes" came from the favorite son delegations, the "noes" from the McAdoo and Smith factions and despite its overwhelming defeat it may come up again.

Then there is also the possibility that the delegates themselves, weary, tired, and yearning to get home as they seldom have ever yearned before, may decide to take this convention out of the hands of both McAdoo and Smith, and provide the spectacle of a landslide rush to any candidate who seems to be in a fair way to two thirds.

Only two of the favorite sons have responded to Mr. McAdoo's invitation to eliminate themselves—Senator
Ralston of Indiana, and ex-governor
Cox of Ohio.

Their withdrawal effected the balloting not one whit in so far as a decision between McAdoo and Smith is concerned. Ohio merely switched over to another son, Newton D. Baker and the show went merrily on.

Furthermore, it began to be apparent today that the voluntary withdrawal of Senator Ralston "did not mean much" as one Hoosier delegate put it. Tom Taggart and his Indiana delegation still consider the Hoosier Senator an "ideal compromise" and they believe that even yet, when this convention has been con-vulsed by the seven years' frozen glacier that it now is, he may come back in the morning with the morale prestige of having been the first to respond to a call of party sacrifice.

Highly Priced Decoration

The British Victoria cross, given for conspicuous bravery, was instituted in 1856 on the close of the Crimean war, and was given to citizens who had borne arms against the Indian mutineers. In 1911 the decoration was extended to the Indian army. A bar may be awarded for an additional act of bravery. With the decoration is a pension for noncommissioned officers and men of £10 ($50) a year; with an addition of £5 ($25) for each bar.

"Spring Cleaning" Old Custom.
What we call "spring cleaning" is said to go back to the Passover. From that time there has been a custom whereby everything in a house should be cleaned in the early part of the year. The custom was common among the Jews, especially those who settled in Holland, and gradually the whole of the Dutch nation became impregnated with this idea. From the Netherlands the custom spread to England.

Elephant More Intelligent Than Dog.
Some idea of an elephant's capacities may be reached by comparing him with the dog, with whose intelligence we are familiar. Making allowance for the dog's "opportunities" under man's training, science has come to doubt whether the most exceptionally intelligent dog possesses comprehensive faculties equal to those of the adroit wild elephant fresh from the jungle.

School Children's Coloring Contest---224 Prizes

70 in Cash 160 Theatre Tickets---10 Each Week

IT IS EASY TO WIN---THERE ARE 14 PRIZES EACH WEEK

Little Artists, here is a page that will interest you. It offers an opportunity to show your ability and to use your artistic "knack" to win prizes. It's lots of fun, and there is money in it besides.

Color the Advertisements on This Page the Way They Ought to Be

Prizes will be awarded each week to those who reproduce the colors of all the original labels, packages, trade-marks or designs on this page most carefully, faithfully and neatly. The designs which are black and white reproductions of original labels, packages, trade-marks and designs, are to be colored in the most artistic manner and judging will be done on this basis, together with the neatness of the work. The coloring may be done either in water colors or crayons. This contest is open to school children everywhere. PRIZES WILL BE AWARDED EACH WEEK AS FOLLOWS:

FIRST PRIZE, $5.00; SECOND PRIZE, $3.00; THIRD PRIZE, $1.00; FOURTH PRIZE, $1.00.

The next ten in order of merit will receive a ticket to the Liberty theatre for Saturday afternoon.

This contest will run for 16 weeks. At the close an additional prize of $10.00 will be awarded the child turning in the best page during this period.

IMPORTANT! All designs on this page must be colored and the entire page sent in. Where original labels and

trade marks appear, prizes will be awarded for the efforts that are nearest like the originals.

All the merchandise bearing labels and trade-marks appearing on this page can be purchased in the stores you patronize. They are all high-class products in daily use in all families. You are familiar with most of them; if there are any you cannot color from memory, procure one of the packages and enter the contest. After you have colored the entire page, mail it to the "School Children's Contest," Clearfield Progress. All efforts must be in the Progress office on or before 6 p. m. the first Tuesday after the page is published. The week's prize winners will be announced the following Friday.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

The members of John Shade Post of the American Legion are to be congratulated upon the huge success, financially and otherwise, they made on their big celebration. The local Legionnaires have established a reputation which guarantees a crowd every time they advertise a celebration or "doings" of any kind. They are on the level, always playing square with their patrons by giving them a real show and their money's worth every time. When John Shade Post gives its word the people know that word will be kept.

The artistic taste developed in the trimming of the many floats appearing in yesterday's big Industrial parade was the subject of most favorable comment by all out of town visitors, and these preparing same have every reason to congratulate themselves. There were many fine displays but first prize was appropriately awarded Daisy Thora Johnston for her Hat Shop display. The idea was original with Mrs. Johnston, who also prepared the display herself doing the planning and directing of the work, assisted alone by her store force, which is further subject for congratulation.

Clearfield is some town for a celebration. The Park is a great asset and is a real place of rest and recreation. That helps get the crowd.

TAYLOR'S WORK FOR COMPENSATION BILL

When the news that the adjusted compensation bill has been passed over the Presidential veto by the senate flashed from Washington to Indianapolis where fifty or more American Legion national executive committee men were in session, one name, and one name only was in their minds—John Thomas Taylor.

For more than five years Taylor, a young Washington lawyer of recognized brilliance and an ardent Legionist, had been directing the Legion's fight for passage of the bill. Either as chairman or vice chairman of the Legion's national legislative committee, he had been steering legislation beneficial to the disabled veterans and their ex-service men. He knew every senator, every representative in Washington. He was liked for his winning personality, his brilliance of mind and his ability to present a case convincingly. Men in whose hands rested the fate of legislation in which the Legion was interested, six times he had got the bill through the senate by overwhelming majorities. Three times the senate had even the bill its support. Once the senate had blocked its final passage; once the late President Harding had swept away Taylor's efforts with a stroke of the pen.

But this time he intended nothing should stop him. The crucial moment had come. The battle is hottest, I think, and don't lose my head. I think my own skill he brought the bill through the senate delayed by a vote of 73 to 27.

John Thomas Taylor.

A week which the opposition hoped would be a sufficient time to rally to the cause of the bill. As the time drew close, Taylor, for the final vote, Taylor, on Saturday, outlined his campaign. His present, jotted on a piece of paper which he held before him, outlined his campaign. He had twenty-seven friends dashed in with the news that the senate had moved the bill for a vote. Taylor? Are you the anxious quiver from the friends of the bill. The Legion is going to win. Taylor said. Taylor's vote was finished. The vote was 73 for and 27 against. One vote made Taylor's premonition a reality. He had figured precisely what was going to happen. It was for nothing that he had stood over the Legion's legislative ink for six years. He had prepared graphs, charts and had worked for the passage of the adjusted compensation bill with the scientific precision of a chemist precipitating a crystal solution.

The national executive committee of the Legion in recognition of Taylor's unflinching work presented him with a handsome watch as a token of their esteem. Taylor began his army life as a buck private in the Infantry, May, 1917. He was then thirty-two years old. In August, 1917, he went to an officers' training camp and came out a first lieutenant. Seventeen months of overseas service followed during which he fought at Chateau Thierry, Vesle and Meuse-Argonne. His outfit was the first to cross the border when the Army of Occupation moved into Germany. He was discharged a captain and returned to Washington to pick up his neglected law practice. But Legion work interested him, and he found the time to be responsible for a large measure for the passage of any piece of legislation, notably the adjusted bill, which increased the compensation of disabled comrades.

Curwensville's Own Column

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bartelle and child are in Curwensville from Detroit and will spend a few weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Blake, who have also returned from a months vacation trip.

William Mumma met with an accident up at the Crescent Refractories brick yard yesterday by which one of his feet was severely injured. Dr. Blair treated the injury.

Louis Marchetto, who at one time was the blacksmith at the Bailey quarries, and later located in Pittsburgh, is in town with his family and will visit for several weeks.

Miss Maude Dickie, of Oakland, Clarion county, has been in Curwensville for some few days and is the guest of Miss Helen Rupert.

Kenneth Wall and William Kittleberger, two of the town's young men who have no desire to be idle, have formed a partnership and will engage in the roof-painting business. They have already secured a number of contracts.

Lester and Mose Whittaker, sons of Reuben Whittaker, Harry Smith and Gene Riddle are determined to see something of the western country and have started on a long automobile trip, expecting to go clear thru to the Pacific coast. May luck attend their venture.

Miss M. Alice Thompson has gone over into the Bellefonte territory and will remain several weeks among friends.

Tuesday Miss Grace Sawtelle entertained the members of her Sunday School class in picnic style over at the river park. Everybody enjoyed the outing immensely, especially the bathing privileges.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gardlock have gone to Williamsport for a short period, after which they expect to move on to Valley Falls, N. Y., and spend a month with their daughter, Mrs. Kester.

William Moore, Harrisburg, was a Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Gates over Sunday. "Quaker" has gotten some high faluten notions into his cranium since his sojourn at the Capitol City, and hardly noticed any of his old time Curwensville cronies. A curt nod and not even a smile is about all that the "Quaker" condescended to give us. All right, small favors received and smaller ones in proportion, my fine laddy buckaroo.

Some of Curwensville's youthful sandlot practitioners went over to Glen Richey Tuesday to show the mining element just how the game of modern baseball was played. Our fellows returned home much weaker and wiser than when they landed in Glen Richey, being defeated to the tune of rogues march 9 to 1. How sad.

Mrs. B. H. Conley's Sunday School class of the Presbyterian church went down to the farm home of Miss Ida Henry, near the Susquehanna bridge, and spent the day picnicking.

Mrs. Joseph G. Fullerton and her sister, Mrs. Margaret Russell, went over to Glen Richey one day this week and spent the time with their father, Mr. David Reed, Sr.

Frank Light who had a foot injured several weeks ago while working in the Wylie mines, is able to be about on crutches, but it will be some time yet before he is able to work.

Marlin L. Benson is home from Akron, Ohio, for a short vacation which will be spent at the home of his father, Ernie Benson, over on Bloomington Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eastburn arrived in Curwensville yesterday from Trenton N. J., via the auto route. Mr. Eastburn who has been interested in the Roaring Run Stone quarries will go over the plant and measure up conditions for another big order.

Wednesday evening instead of the regular prayer meeting session in the Methodist Episcopal church, a program of patriotism, song and prayer was held. The exercises were conducive to the time and place, and interesting throughout.

Mrs. (Dr.) Blair and three children have gone to Merchantville, N. J., for a vacation visit, which gives the Dr. an elegant chance to remain away from home at later evening hours and talk over the events happening in Madison Square Garden at the Democratic National Convention.

WOODLAND

A new baby boy arrived Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lumadue.

The town was almost devoid of its population today, nearly everybody having gone to other towns and villages to enjoy the 4th of July festivities. However, there remained a few of us old timers, who love peace and quiet, and who deemed it our duty to stay right in Curwensville so that strangers might be directed on the right road to points out of town. We do not blame our citizens for going away from town on holidays, as this burg hardly ever has gumption enough to promote any specific enjoyments by which they would take pleasure in remaining at home instead of going abroad.

Dr. and Mrs. Miles Wall who made a motor trip through a portion of central Ohio have returned home very much delighted with their trip. They missed the big storm by a hair breadth, but saw enough of the storms result to satisfy them that it must have been a jim dandy bluster.

J. Roll Bloom came up from Scranton Tuesday where he has been engaged on bridge construction work and will remain in Curwensville the balance of the week.

Willard Snyder of New Kensington is visiting at the home of his mother Mrs. Geo. Snyder.

Reese Valmont of Surveyor, was a visitor in town on Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Turner attended the funeral of the latter's uncle Vance Stone, of Stoneville on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Palmer entertained a number of young folks at a party at their home on Tuesday evening in honor of their nephews and nieces, Jack, Rosh, Josephine and Kathryn Holt, of Springfield, Mass.

Miss Tudy Hull, of Mineral Springs entertained the girls of her Sunday School class and their friends at her home on Tuesday evening.

Extra Glasses Assure Pleasure

Taking an extra pair of glasses along on your vacation assures you of enjoyment every minute. You know that if an accident to the pair you wear should happen, all you have to do is reach for the new pair and you are ready for the fun again.

A Little Light on the Matter

BY TAYLOR

JORDAN'S

STEAMING HOT

you get your dinner at JORDAN'S restaurant—our chef sees to that. Better still, you get ace-high quality food here—as good or even better than you get at home. The cooking is right; the service is right.

Must Hang

Mrs. Kathryn Halsey of Hope, N. Y., must hang for the murder of her husband, Fred Halsey, wealthy cattle man. Two male accomplices, Luther Foster and Claude B. Archer, must die with her. The death plot, in which the woman, according to testimony at her trial, played the leading role, dated back to the Christmas holidays last year, authorities said.

A Raveling Story

Mary Anne, just five years old, was watching the new cook make a pie. She watched her roll out the crust, fit it in the pan and then take up the knife to cut off the pieces which extended over the edge of the pan. "Oh, I want to make a little pie," she exclaimed. "Can I have the ravelings of dough you just cut off for it?"

Adventure.

Most housebreaking must be for the sake of adventure. There is seldom anything in the house worth the danger.

Peculiar Combinations.

An English woman recently wrote to a newspaper saying that she was born A. Mann (Allie Mann). She married a Mr. Husband, and so became A. Husband. He died and she married again, this time a Mr. Maiden. Becoming a widow for a second time, she concludes that, though born A. Mann, she will die A. Maiden.

BEFORE BABIES WERE BORN

Mrs. Oswald Benefited by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Girardville, Pa.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before my last two babies came. It keeps me in perfect health and I am on my feet getting meals and doing all my housework until an hour before the baby is born. A friend told me to take it and I have used ten bottles since I heard about it. I recommend the Vegetable Compound whenever I can. Just yesterday a friend was telling me how miserable she felt, and I said, 'If you start taking Lydia E. Pinkham's you will feel fine.' Now she is taking it."—Mrs. P. J. Oswald, Jr., 406 W. Ogden St., Girardville, Pa.

Mrs. Nicola Paluzzi Says
Mishawaka, Indiana.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weakness before my babies were born. I was weak and tired out all the time and it helped me. When I had inward inflammation the doctor treated me, but it did not help me, so I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Sensitive Wash and it helped me right away. I will always have your medicines."—Mrs. NICOLA PALUZZI, 415 E. Broadway, Mishawaka, Indiana.

KILL THE FLY

You will find that we have everything here to help you in your campaign to make Clearfield a flyless town. We heartily concur with the Board of Health and have planned accordingly. Come to us for suggestions.

Now Is The Time To Start Drinking More Milk

Of course, it's a good thing to do any time, but why not start it first thing tomorrow morning? When you have eaten your fruit for your breakfast, and prepare for your favorite breakfast food, use just a little more milk and enjoy your breakfast more.

Then, if you feel sort of hungry during the morning, while you wait for the paper, drink a glass of milk. Again, use lots of milk in preparing your dinner dishes. There are so many ways that milk can be used in preparing dishes for your dinner that will be easier and quicker, that once you have started the idea you appreciate what we have been telling you—that milk is your greatest ally during the summer months.

If the kiddies get hungry in the afternoon, give them a glass of milk or some bread and milk. Lunch at night should be more milk and if they are hungry at bedtime, milk again.

Lots of milk, but—it's the best thing every member of the family can consume during the summer. Be sure it's pasteurized.

Insects Used for Cochineal Dyes.
Nineteen thousand insects are required to make one pound of cochineal dye. Only the bodies of the females are used. They are wingless and each one produces over 1,000 young which spread over the plants rapidly.

There's All the Difference.
Reading the silly magazines as one does on vacation, we note that the best just now is articles by husbands on "How My Wife Has Hindered My Career." You don't see women blentling about their inebriations this way. Why? They are the practical sex. When a woman finds her husband a hindrance she doesn't talk. She acts.—Chicago News.
